Maibock Sign of brighter days

Maibock beer is named for the month of May, "Mai" in German. The term Bock originates from Einbeck, where this beer may have been created. Maibock is also known as Heller Bock. The German word "Hell" means light colored or bright.

There are many legends surrounding the origins and influences of this particular beer, and it's popularity throughout the Bavarian Court in Munich. Some say that this beer may have saved Munich from a siege by the Swedish protestants during the 30 Year's War in the 1600s, when the invaders were paid a ransom of 6,000 gallons of beer to leave peaceably.

What is known for sure is that the arrival of Maibock signals the beginning of spring and brighter days. This style of beer was typically brewed in winter, to be served in the spring. There was a tendency to drink darker, heartier styles including the traditional darker bocks during winter months. The Maibock or Heller Bock has a lighter, color and profile and was more popular in the warmer months.

This spring, Peter has brewed up both a Traditional Bock and our FestBock Maibock. Explore history by savoring each with your palate, and draw your own comparison.

Worth Brewing Company in Northwood held its annual Spring BockFest Saturday April 27.

Fest Bock Maibock was the biggest seller of the day! Peter served up regular and fest brats with his delicious red cabbage and German potato salad. Guests were able to enjoy time poking beers out by the fire, while Bill, Lee and Brian C of "Pete's Pool Hall" shared their folk/bluegrass music with the crowd.

Friday evening was the judging for the Homebrew Wort Wing Ding Challenge. Guest judges Brian and Karl had their work cut out for them as they tasted and compared six beers to the style guidelines. The winning beer was a British Brown Ale with coffee called "Bag O'Beans" brewed by Casey Mussmann. Congrats!

Beehive Ballroom

Nestled above the taproom on the second floor of Worth Brewing is the Beehive Ballroom and speakeasy. This venue has been restored back to its 1896 glory with the original tin ceilings, Douglas Fir floor, stage and fixtures. We worked to keep the ballroom as original as possible and add modern amenities in order to open it for public and private events. When you reserve the Ballroom you will be able to use the entire facility to its fullest potential.

We are now accepting reservations for weddings, showers, birthdays, corporate meetings, reunions or any event where you need a beautiful venue with great beer.
